

Wyllard's Weird by Mary Elizabeth Braddon

Read by Lynne Thompson. Total running time: 17:19:40

A novel written in three volumes. In the golden age of steam, the London train wends its way across the Tamar into the strange and mystic land that is Cornwall, having left most of its length at Plymouth. A weary doctor gazes at the countryside, when the train grinds to a halt and his professional attention is demanded. A young woman. An apparent suicide. Who was she? What brought her to Cornwall? What drove her to kill herself? Or did she?

This recording is in the public domain and may be reproduced, distributed, or modified without permission. For more information or to volunteer, visit librivox.org. Cover picture from 1885 publication. Copyright expired in U.S. Cover design by David Purdy. This design is in the public domain.

Wyllard's Weird – Mary Elizabeth Braddon

Wyllard's Weird – Mary Elizabeth Braddon